Pharmaceutical Enthusiast

Desmond works on a small marijuana seed farm in Humboldt County. Although Humboldt is a long way from his birthplace of Topeka, KA Desmond's upbringing still plays a strong role in his outlook on life.

When Desmond was in 6th Grade he went through the DARE program and became strongly anti-pot based off much of the information he learned. However when he was 14 his friends pressured him into his first bong hit and he spent the rest of his youth in the midwest in a THC induced haze.

Desmond wondered why his experiences were so different from what he had expected based off the DARE program and began researching the history of marijuana and its criminalization.

People just don't know the truth. We gotta get them educated. Once they know, everything will change...

Over time Desmond started to join in discussions at www.cannabisculture.com and cannabisnews.com. There he met an aging hippie who was looking for help with his medical marijuana crop, Desmond moved to the farm where he sleeps in the guest room.

Desmond believes it is only a matter of time before marijuana is legalized and spends his spare time trying to get the word about about marijuana's benefits through comments, letters to the local paper, and several forums he participates in.
